

GAGGED NIGHT WATCHMAN AND BLEW OPEN SAFE

Toronto Robbers Effect a Daring Burglary at the Toronto Carpet Works Last Night

Toronto, Mar. 26.—Safe blowers entered the Carpet Works at midnight and held their revolvers at the head of night watchman Thomas Murray and gagged him. They blew up the safe and escaped with all its valuable contents.

When the night watchman was on his rounds a man stepped up from behind him and, pointing a revolver, told him to put his hands up. Nothing was left but to comply as the man was joined by two others, each with a revolver. They then entered the building, taking him along. They bound his limbs and gagged his mouth so that he could not raise an outcry. After working for about a quarter of an hour the building shook with an explosion, and after the smoke had cleared the robbers went away. Murray, after hearing them take their departure, managed to wriggle himself free from his bonds. The safe in an outer room was wrecked, the sides and doors having been torn off by the explosion of nitro-glycerine. Lodgers were strewn around the room with the force of the detonation. The cash drawers had been emptied of cash. The loss is considerable.

WILL LOCATE TIMBER BERTH

Alex Livingston, a Nephew of the Great Explorer, Going out in the Interests of Foley Bros. and Larsen

Alex. Livingston, of Winnipeg, one of the best known civil engineers of Western Canada and a nephew of David Livingston, the celebrated African explorer and missionary, is at the Alberta today, accompanied by G. A. Bennett and R. Hogarth, also of Winnipeg.

Mr. Livingston and his companions are going up to the Little Smoky River in the interests of the big American firm of railway contractors, Foley Bros. & Larsen, to locate 125 sections of timber land. The staking and surveying of the territory will take them all summer and it will probably be late in the fall before they return to the city. They are busy today arranging for their pack train and supplies and hope to be able to pull out for the Smoky on Wednesday afternoon.

EXHIBITION BUILDINGS READY FOR SETTLERS

Chas. Sutter, immigration agent, did not lose any time after the council offered the use of the exhibition buildings to accommodate settlers, in getting things in shape down there to receive. The moment the expenditure was authorized from Ottawa, he started a force to work to clean and scrub and put up stoves and partitions. By this evening the buildings will be comfortable and settlers unable to find accommodation at any of the hotels, will find plenty of room at the exhibition buildings.

Mr. Sutter had also close to one hundred guests at the immigration building on Saturday night and many parties outfitted in town this morning to go out land-hunting. Last night's C. N. R. express took 500 down the line to look for homesteads in the Battle River country.

PLANNING FOR AN OPERA HOUSE

C. V. Semerad Forming a Company to Build Show Shop on Fraser Avenue—An $80,000 House Figured on

If the proposition which C. V. Semerad, proprietor of the St. Elmo Hotel, has in view, materializes, Edmonton will have an opera house before fall which will be the equal of anything in the Canadian west.

Together with other Edmonton men, Mr. Semerad has taken the preliminary proceedings to organize a company, which they propose shall have a capital of $80,000, to build an opera house on the lot at the corner of Rice and Fraser avenues.

The property in question is 66 feet on Fraser by 110 feet deep, along Rice, and the proposition is to build an opera house covering the entire area.

The building figured on will cost, approximately $40,000 and the furnishings and the cost of the site will bring the total investment up to the capitalization of the company. It will be furnished with a modern stage, having all the lighting and scenic properties requisite for the accommodation of the best companies on the road, and will be built with a spacious pit and two balconies, capable of seating 1400 people.

Of the capital required $32,000 has already been offered and the balance can undoubtedly be found in Edmonton without difficulty as the enterprise promises handsome profits.

Refuses to Produce Minutes.

Secretary-Treasurer G. J. Kinnaird refused point blank today to give the minutes of the alleged secret meeting of the city council on Friday evening.

When provision was made to have been made in the salary list for the employment of a city engineer at $3000 a year and the retention of J. H. Hargreaves as public works commissioner at $2200.

Mr. Kinnaird absolutely refused to give any particulars or details of the meeting and refused to show any books containing any minutes of any kind

JUSTICE OF PEACE COMMITTS SUICIDE

Drink Leads to Despondency and Death at His Own Hand

Fort William, Mar. 26.—With his throat cut from ear to ear, J. P. Holland, Justice of the Peace of Schreiber, died today at the McKellar hospital. Some months ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis. Late yesterday he had been drinking heavily and subject to fits of despondency. Saturday afternoon he asked the proprietor of the hotel for poison, stating that he intended to take his life. He was perfectly sober when he went to bed at eleven o'clock. About one o'clock Sunday morning, Dr. Cunningham who was sleeping in the next room was awakened by a noise, and looking over the faint light saw Holland looking at the mirror and slashing at his throat with a razor. Entering the room the unfortunate man was found lying on the bed and had barely enough strength left to gasp. He died at McKellar hospital about eleven o'clock last night.

LAPROK FINED FOR ASSAULT

Brandon, Mar. 26.—Not guilty on four counts in the indictment, but guilty of assault was the verdict brought in in the Laprok case. Judge Perdue imposed a fine of $100. The amount was paid and Laprok, who for the past five months has had a serious charge of attempted murder hanging over him, walked out of the court room a free man. He was charged with shooting at the corner of a C. P. R. train.

whatever. He stated that he was acting entirely on his own initiative, that he had no instructions from the mayor or city council and that he had never given nor would ever give any committee proceedings to the public in any manner; that the public was not going to be allowed to know what went on in committee.

Mr. Kinnaird stated that he had never taken any legal advice on the matter and that he did not think such action was necessary, as he was satisfied he was right.

POLISH GIRL FOUND DEAD

Postmortem Shows Evidence of Poisoning From Carbolic Acid

Winnipeg, Mar. 26.—Huddled in the snow behind the fence in the rear of McDougall Methodist church, the body of Annie Peterman, a handsome Polish girl, aged 21, daughter of Konstant Peterman, was found Saturday morning without a mark upon the body or any signs about her clothing to indicate that there was any suggestion of foul play. The cause of death was a mystery at first. The girl who was prepossessing and well dressed was last seen Friday night when she attended service at the Immaculate Conception church and after having confessed to Rev. Father Sherrin, as was her custom, she started for home about 8:30 o'clock. With the words, "When is mass tomorrow, Father," she went out into the night and to her death. The postmortem, Sunday morning, disclosed that she died of carbolic acid, though how or when it was taken is unknown.

MCCARTHER MAY GET A CONTRACT

Ottawa, Mar. 25.—J. D. McArthur of Winnipeg, is here in connection with his interest in the contract for the construction of the western section of the Transcontinental railway. There does not appear to be any doubt now that he is the lowest tenderer. It is also reported that MacDonald & Hogan are the lowest tenderers for the Quebec section. However the tenders have not yet been submitted to the Cabinet from the railway department and until that is done it will not be officially known who are to get the contract. Senator Roy, has arrived from Edmonton and will be introduced in the Senate to-morrow.

PROGRESS ON THE ESTIMATES.

Ottawa, Mar. 23.—All the customs estimates except one item and the greater part of the post office items passed the House today.

Honorable Walter Scott, the Premier of Saskatchewan, is here today on business with the Government.

WILL PETITION COUNCIL FOR LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS

Property Holders on H. B. Reserve North of C. N. R. Want Sidewalks, Street Grades, Sewer, Water, Light and Telephone

A bunch of petitions which is going in to the city council tomorrow evening calls for the largest local improvement order that has ever been demanded from the city.

According to the petitions, the property holders are asking the city council to open up Columbia, Vermilion and Churchill avenues from First to Sixteenth streets, and all the streets running north and south, from Second to Sixteenth inclusive. The petitioners ask to have the streets brushed and graded, a five foot sidewalk laid on all the streets of the whole territory, a complete sewage system and water, light and telephone. The total expenditure asked for would run well over $100,000.

The Hudson Bay reserve north of the track has been building up very rapidly recently and there are now several score of houses under construction or lately completed where a few weeks ago the territory was untenanted.

The petition is at the office of the Edmonton Real Estate Co.

ANOTHER ROAD FOR EDMONTON

British Pacific Wants Power to Build From Victoria B. C. to Eort Churchill on Hudson's Bay

All railways are heading toward Edmonton nowadays. The latest railway proposition, as outlined in their application for charter at Ottawa, is for a road to be built from Victoria, B. C. at the south end of Vancouver island, to Seymour Narrows, when it will cross over to the main land, and coming via Bute Inlet, the Nechako, the south Fork of the Fraser, Tele Juan Cache and the Yellowhead, will reach Edmonton. From this city it is proposed to cross the plains north of the Saskatchewan river and continue to Fort Churchill, on Hudson's Bay.

The route would be through country capable of great freight production all the way and providing always that the Hudson Bay route is a feasible one—would be the shortest transcontinental by over 1000 miles, besides having its eastern terminal closer to Liverpool than New York.

The name of the company is the British Pacific Railway company. The application for charter will come before the railway committee some time this week.

A SUDDEN DEATH AT VEGREVILLE

Vegreville Observer: A sudden and startling death, the first within the limits of our town, occurred last Monday night, in the demise of Henry B. Fraser, late veterinary surgeon of this place. Deceased retired to bed in the tank house near McCombs' livery stable in an intoxicated condition, and was found dead in the morning by his room mates, he having apparently passed away without a struggle. An inquest was held on the body by Dr. Rush, coroner, when it was found that death was due to an overdose of chloroform, which Fraser had purchased presumably to be used in his veterinary practice. Deceased was about 25 years of age, and came last November from Froggall, Cheshire, near Stoke-on-Trent, England, where he leaves a wife and two children. He came to Vegreville from Battleford about three months ago and established a veterinary practice here and at Vermilion, disposing of his business here a short time ago to Dr. M. G. Connolly. Deceased comes of one of the wealthiest and most aristocratic families in England, and it is the old story of the prodigal son sent to Canada to be out of temptation's way. Mr. S. Bell, of North Battleford, a distant relative of the deceased, took charge of the burial. The funeral took place to Poulin cemetery on Saturday.

THE LETHBRIDGE BY-ELECTION

The writ has been issued for the by-election, in the Provincial constituency of Lethbridge, left vacant by the resignation of Mr. D. C. Tiffany to the Senate. Nominations will be held on April 2nd and election on April 12th.

The prompt action of the Government in holding the election at this early date should prove very satisfactory to the people of Lethbridge and of the Province at large. The first Legislature of Alberta is now in session and it is desirable from the standpoint of the individual constituency and of the Province that all sections and all interests of the Province should be represented while the foundations of Provincial government are being laid and the future course of the Province is being determined. In the arrangement of the governmental machinery by which the welfare of our people is to be furthered and conserved it is right that the people of every section of the province have a voice and that such is the desire of the Government is amply evidenced in the promptness with which the vacancy in Lethbridge has been provided for. Alberta is and must continue to be a province of many industries and equally many interests. Differences of geological structure and climate tend to provide a great variety of productive occupations, each bearing a worthy part in the development and progress of Alberta and each worthy governmental recognition and consideration as an important and promising economic factor.

The spurious doctrine is being advanced by Opposition papers that because the Opposition is weak in the Legislature Lethbridge should revoke the decision of the election in November last and provide a third representative of the party in the House. It would have been equally reasonable to argue that because Russia got the worst of the war with Japan it was the duty of Great Britain to break her alliance and make war upon the Japanese, and the proposal that Lethbridge elect an Opposition member because the Opposition is weak comes with just as much grace and dignity from the Conservative press as a plea from Russia for Britain's aid. The electors of Lethbridge in November last gave their approval of the policy of the Rutherford administration by returning a representative to assist in carrying that policy into effect. The charges has not been made by the most rapid Opposition organ in Alberta that the Administration has not shown diligence, fairness and sound judgment in inaugurating that policy. The pleadings of the Opposition press amounts therefore simply to a request that the electors of Lethbridge condemn the Rutherford administration for carrying into effect the policy which in November last they requested and authorized that Administration to inaugurate.

The issue in Lethbridge should be in name as it will be in fact, the record and policy of the Provincial Government. That the record has not been assailed by the Opposition press is sufficient evidence that it is unassailable; that that policy secured the all but unanimous endorsement of the electors of the Province is quite as good evidence that it accords with the views and desires of the people of Alberta. The electors of Lethbridge therefore have the privilege of approving or condemning an administrative record which has been above criticism and of endorsing or repudiating a policy which has met with the most enthusiastic approval of the Province as a whole. To elect a member of the Opposition would therefore be an indication either that the character of the government given the Province does not weigh duly in the minds of the people of Lethbridge or that the electors of that constituency do not desire the application to their portion of the Province of the progressive policy demanded by the overwhelming majority of the people of Alberta.

HIGHER EDUCATION

Editor Bulletin:

Kindly allow me space to publicly express my approval of you; printed on the university question as set forth in your answer to Prof. Rae's communication on this subject. I also desire to briefly comment upon one of his statements not touched by the Bulletin. "The success, the excellency of your public schools will not depend on the addition of a few more subjects to your curriculum; there are too many subjects at present." First I would quote from the Bulletin under the heading "Many Settlers for Alberta": "The settlers are all from the United States and, taken as a whole, no more desirable settlers have ever reached the province of Alberta."

The fact, which is a fact, that these settlers are not graduates of universities, but acquired their learning, not education (I make a distinction here between learning and education), under a public school system with fewer subjects in its curriculum than obtain here, would seem to substantiate the professor's statement.

Yes, Mr. Editor, your curriculum contains altogether too many subjects and tends to the advanced education of the few instead of the acquisition of useful knowledge by the many, and forces us to pay exorbitant wages to teachers not suited to our requirements, and not in harmony with what these "desirable settlers" have been accustomed to.

We have in our neighborhood a lady who was a successful teacher in the state of Iowa, yet she recently remarked that after careful investigation of your curriculum she decided it would take her at least three years of hard study to qualify as a teacher in Alberta. No well informed person will question the efficiency of the public schools of Iowa. The writer holds first grade certificates for Minnesota and South Dakota and has had twenty-five years' experience as a teacher in those states but considers life too short and uncertain even to try to qualify as a teacher in Alberta. Higher education is a good thing for its possessor and unquestionably yields some influence for good in general, and be it far from the writer to oppose its cost at the proper time or in its legitimate field. This public school is not its legitimate field and such subjects as algebra, geometry, trigonometry, etc., should be stricken from its curriculum. These settlers, which Alberta papers frequently call the "bacs," if they have been here long, will vouch for the statement that much better schools obtain in the States for from thirty to forty dollars per month of twenty days of six hours than it is possible to get here at nearly double the cost.

Prof. Rae is unfortunate in citing the United States to prove his position. Would space permit, I could quote good authorities, and present indisputable proof that the greater the tendency to higher education the greater the percentage of absolute illiteracy. The fate of Athens is vividly portrayed in the following lines of Goldsmith:

"Ill fares the land, to hastening ills a prey,
Where wealth accumulates and men decay.

Princes and lords may flourish or may fade,
A breath can make them as a breath has made;
But a bold peasantry, their country's pride,
When once destroyed, can never be supplied."

Let the Legislature of Alberta give these "desirable" settlers a practical curriculum and enter into a "reciprocity treaty" with experienced teachers from the States and they will build a substantial foundation for the Professor's ideal university.

Thanking you for past courtesies, I am,
Respectfully,
D. C. TIFFANY, DR.
Dunsmuir, Alberta.

FARMERS AND GOOD SEED.

(Winnipeg Free Press)
Now that seed time is drawing near it is to be hoped that every farmer will put into practice the principles of seed selection so ably presented by the lecturers who accompanied the seed special on its comprehensive tour. Just now there are few questions, if any, which equal in importance that of rational and proper seed selection. At this stage in the development of the west a conspicuous crop failure would be quite disastrous. It would be taken philosophically by those farmers who have had some experience in western crop-raising, but here are so many new settlers, properly expecting great things that it is most urgent that all established agriculturists, both by precept and example, press home the absolute necessity of good seed. It is in the individual interests of every western farmer to prepare his land with thoroughness and to exercise the most careful discrimination in seed selection.

Most farmers of the west, who have had any extended experience, are convinced of the necessity of good seed, and they also, by experience, have learned many wholesome lessons in regard to soil cultivation. If these farmers, generally, would take the trouble to counsel, and advise new settlers in their respective localities, they would be doing the country a great service—greater indeed than that accomplished by the most eloquent speech heard in legislative halls. The established farmers of the west have an opportunity this spring of doing a work which will have a most important influence on the destiny of the country. But the performance of this work, as said before, cannot be otherwise than beneficial to themselves for the highest success of any individual farmer, is bound up, to a considerable extent with the uniform success of his neighbors, and with the general agricultural prosperity of the west.

The old practice of sowing inferior seed has led to a crisis which it is folly to ignore. There was a time when even some intelligent farmers thought they were performing an economic feat by selling their good wheat and purchasing frozen grain for seed. The result has been a general deterioration in grain quality with an alarming increase in prevalence of smut. Rigid methods of seed selection will again bring back the uniform abundance of western wheat and the crop will not be so prone to injury from diseases which the weak plants grown from inferior seed are powerless to resist.

It is important to have a good crop this year, but, of course, a great deal will depend upon the climatic character of the summer. New settlers, of course, are aware of this, and at least those who have had previous farming experience, will not expect adverse weather conditions and a big crop to go hand in hand. However, even with a season which from a climatic standpoint is much below the average, a fair crop may be obtained if the soil is thoroughly cultivated, and only the best seed sown. "As ye sow so shall ye reap," is a wholesome text from Holy Writ, which every farmer should bear in mind this spring while preparing his land, and choosing his seed. If the farmers do their duty, it is hard to imagine climatic conditions which would induce disastrous failure, and, on the other hand, if the west is blessed with one of its characteristic growing seasons, this year's crop and the resultant prosperity will be the greatest in the history of the country.

Conditions of Trade Never Better Than Today in Ontario.

According to the statement made by Burns & Sheppard, of Grand's Repository, Toronto, the horse market in the east is in a very healthy condition. Good healthy workers are going from $125 to $175, and serviceably sound horses, depending on condition, from $100 to $125. Light horses will not be in demand for a couple of weeks, and then they will be the whole thing. It looks as if prospects for the future are brighter in the horse line than almost any other. Horses are scarce in the country, and the scarcity is being aggravated by the constant and heavy shipments to the west.

STRATHCONA

Strathcona, Mar. 23.—Mr. H. Dunk late of the T. A. McLean staff, has returned to town after spending a few months with his old friends in Campbellford, Ont.

Angus McClellan was taken to the coop by Chief Paterson. This unfortunate man, although interdicted from liquor, managed to get loaded up last night and commenced to create a disturbance in the ante room of Ross Hall last night while the banquet was being held. He was quickly disposed of and appeared this morning before Magistrate Ritchie, who after showing him the gravity of his offence, and giving him good advice fined him $50 and costs or 30 days. We understand he refused to pay the fine and hence will get a free transport to Fort Saskatchewan, and given time to repent and change his ways.

Mr. Foley, government poultry expert, went south this morning over the C. & E. en route for his home in Bowmanville, Ont.

The Hon. Senator Talbot went south on the 4 p.m. train en route for Lacombe.

Mr. Whipple, who came in a few days ago from Idaho, went back to Pernie, B. C. after taking up a homestead in Northern Alberta.

Rev. J. P. Rice, of Red Deer, and Rev. C. H. Sheppard, of Leduc, have gone south, having been delegates to the recent Liberal convention here.

Messrs. Townley and Jamieson, have been making a tour around Stettler Dayland and Lacombe with a view to locate. They came up again to town and say they prefer this section to anything they have seen in Alberta. They are located at the Alberta here.

Workmen are busily engaged in the construction of Mayor Sheppard's building here near the Dominion Hotel. The Canadian Bank of Commerce will occupy the new building as soon as ready.

—The following is a clipping from the Winnipeg Free Press regarding the Firth Eaton Concert Co. which appears here this evening. "The Firth-Eaton combination must be seen and heard to be appreciated. Seldom if ever does such a talented trio visit this city. The programme was varied and well chosen. Mr. Eaton is an impersonator of great talent and was seen last night at his best. His make-up was par excellence and his selections clever and humorous in the extreme. Miss Jackson is perhaps one of the best sopranos ever heard in this city. Her contributions to the programme showed her to possess a rich and cultured voice which is especially adapted for operatic work. Mr. Francis Firth is a most expressive singer, a thorough artist possessing a voice of pleasing quality and satisfying quantity. He was heard to best advantage in his duet as Charles V."

SOUTH AFRICAN AFFAIRS

The new Liberal daily in London, the Tribune, says of Lord Milner's speech: "Lord Milner explained last night that if he were a party man he would wish the Government to persist in measures ruinous to South Africa. Such is Lord Milner's conception of the patriotism of the average Liberal or Conservative. . . . We hope Lord Milner will often speak in public, and that he will be fully reported. Nothing could give the country so complete an understanding of the in which the South African war was brought about. . . . We have in Lord Milner the typical, competent, upright official, absolutely confident in his Heaven-sent mission to organize the life of human beings for them, wholly without imagination or humor, and incapable of regarding men otherwise than as pawns in his hands to be used as his superior wisdom chooses. . . . The onlooker who would like at least to hear the pawn's statement of his case is convicted of sympathizing with the enemies of his country. . . . When this autocratic temper collides with the resolution of a virile people to hold their own, a tragedy follows. But, the autocrat pursues his way, undisturbed by the desolated land, the burnt homes, the two-score thousand deaths. He was right. He was the minister of a beneficent empire and an advancing civilization. On the rebels and those who sympathize with them 'be the gulf of blood.'"

The Times, which voices the other side of the case, says: "We have already pointed out in these columns that under self-government in the Orange Colony a Boer majority of some kind was certain, and that this fact ought to induce discretion in the Government as to how they handle the Constitution of the Transvaal. Lord Milner enforced this contention in his speech with a carry conviction to every open mind. He reminded his hearers of the kind of language which the Boer leaders have been using about this country from the end of the war up to the present time. He pointed out that it was certainly humanly speaking, that these men and others who like them have done everything to foster hatred of the British regime would dominate the first Parliament elected in the Orange Colony. He 'cannot understand how any human being not being a pro-Boer, can regard with equanimity the prospect that the very hand which drafted the ultimatum of October, 1899, the reference is, of course, to Mr. Abraham Fischer, then the moving spirit behind President Steyn—may within a year be drafting 'Ministers' minutes' for submission to a British Governor, who will have virtually no option but to obey them.' Can we think with entire complacency of the future of British settlers in the Colony under these conditions? Many of these settlers, as Lord Milner recalled, are tenants with guarantees from the Government; and one and all are absolutely dependent on the British Government for their welfare on our refusal to throw away the results of the war."
